Dear Sir:

Re: Parkland Regional Library

We have had our attention drawn to your website terremoto.ca. You posted in your blog on Tuesday, June 28, 2005 your version of events relating to the Privacy Commissioner's hearing and ruling. Included in your posting is the following:

"I suppose the thing that amazed me the most was the FACT that my former employer concocted an elaborate lie to cover their butts. If you read the ruling I'm certain you'll get the impression that the Privacy Commissioner detected a fabricated story but didn't have the 'smoking gun' to pin a perjury charge on them. Oh well..., justice generally catches up with pathological liars!"

On behalf of Parkland Regional Library Board, we hereby demand that you remove the excerpt quoted above from your blog. If you fail to do so immediately, we will consider all legal options including bringing claim against you for defamation. As you are aware, your own credibility was very much an issue in the hearing. Notwithstanding that fact, our client has not engaged in maligning you or defaming you.

We trust you will govern yourself accordingly.

Yours truly,

CORBETT SMITH BRESEE LLP
